The Cosmic Foreigners 2: A Deadly Summer Delight

What is the story about?: The Cosmic Foreigners 2 is a follow-up to the first story on my wattpad story that was posted at its finished state back in 2023. This sequel takes place two years after the event of the first story after a parasitic outbreak that came from outer space that landed in New York City, now rescued to relocate to a local town to call home in hopes that life would get better. Little do they know, this is only the beginning of what they’re facing throughout their lives that they’re about to uncover as they discover this new dessert that rose in popularity out of nowhere.

Will they be prepared for what’s to come and face this nightmare? Or will they be doomed of not learning the truth behind it?

Quick plot summary to get those ideas out:

Intro: Some of the same parasitic worms managed to survive from the aftermath of being gunned down by the rescue team back in NYC, slithering away from this city to a new hiding spot to find its next prey to assimilate to repeat the cycle. That was until it found a truck delivering some dessert to a local town located in New Jersey stop by to a truck stop, that was when it decided to strike at the right moment once those drivers are vulnerable for assimilation to take control of them and plan out on selling these to people with its own little egg that'll hatch the moment it has been indigested, or at least, it should go accordingly to plan.

Chapter 1: Introduce Johnny (21) and Palma (22), now 2 years older from the last event, helping her out in a new diner that they'd hired him as they talk about their day to day life and what they want to do outside of their jobs. On Gary (27) and Harrison's (26) end, they've become an undercover cop type to crack the case together as Harrison is decent in his outlawed weapon dealing in the past and see if one of these criminals can spill the beans on the preparatory.

Their days went as normal as it should until one day, all four of them noticed this new dessert that hit store shelves and it was booming in popularity all of a sudden. They got curious to see what the fuzz is all about while others were rabid to see it on stock again. They didn’t mind it at first since it’s probably one of those desserts that has been discontinued at the time when the town they’re living in finally brought back. The chapter ends with Johnny and Palma sleeping it off for the day as Gary and Harrison live in an apartment together, talking about how well they performed and all.

Chapter 2: 5 days has passed since it had returned to store shelf, three of them (Johnny, Palma, and Harrsion) were hanging out together for the first time outside of survival from the previous event at a cafe where they now started to notice that these customers have been acting strange lately, including on what they’ve been selling so far being included in every diary products. They were uneasy about this when a barista of this dessert came by their table to suggest what they wanted to order from this cafe, only for them to plan on just taking it to go. Once outside, Palma decided to head home to relax for a bit, leaving Johnny with Harrison.

Johnny and Harrison decided to hang out and know each other better and see what it’s really about with this new dessert and brought it themselves. Once they got home and Harrison started to inspect it, he got skeptical the moment he saw the ingredients, or lack thereof. Harrison then told Johnny about this information and decided to dig for more information on the carton and found out the brand name that should’ve been there has been scratched off for whatever reason.

The chapter ends after Johnny and Harrison call Palma and Gary of this news.

Chapter 3: Chapter 3 starts where it left off and decided to dump their carton (not opened) into the trash afterwards. Shifting towards Gary’s perspective on what he’s doing currently, he’s currently getting dressed to head over to Johnny’s place for this news (for clarification, Johnny and Palma live together, just in different rooms from the apartment). But just before he leaves, he brings his lighter with him just in case and heads for the door.
